

A role plays – make dialogues which takes at least 2 minutes

- you are a student at an English school in the US or the UK. You'd like your parents to send you some more spending money. Telephone your father (your partner in the role play) and ask for more money. Your father feels that you are spending too much money. Come to a compromise.
- You are visiting your cousin (your partner) whom you haven't seen in a long time. Catch up on all the news from your two families, as well as from your own lives.
- You are a student who has improved at school, but your mother/father (your partner) doesn't feel that you have done enough. Discuss together what you can do to improve your grades, but also recognize your increased efforts.
- You are the aunt / uncle of a your partner. Your partner wants to ask you about what life was like with your brother (your partner's father) when you were both teenagers. Have a discussion about the old times. Compromise on how the present and the past have certain advantages and disadvantages.
- You would like to get married to a man / woman your parents do not approve of. Have a discussion with your mother / father (your partner) about your plans. Try to break the news gently, while still maintaining your desire to get married.
- You are having a discussion with your husband / wife (your partner) about your son who is having problems at school. Accuse each other of not being a good parent, but try to come to a conclusion that will help your child.
- You are a technological wizard and have a new idea for a great start-up on the internet. Try to convince your father to fund your business with a $100,000 loan. Your partner will be your father who is very skeptical about your idea because he thinks you should be a doctor.
